Professional Translation Services

Since 1980, SH3 has provided technical translation to manufacturers, pharmaceutical companies and any company needing professional translation. Today, thanks to three decades of experience, SH3 enjoys an excellent reputation.

Languages we translate

Spanish, German, Italian, French, Chinese, Portuguese, plus some 50 other languages. With over 300 translators worldwide, we're fluent in just about every language.

We specialize in industrial, technical and pharmaceutical translations.

For 30 years, we've translated industrial and technical documents for a diverse list of manufacturers. Our clients make agricultural machinery, construction equipment, engines, forestry equipment, generators, mining machinery, packaging machinery and more.

We've also been the language translator for countless pharmaceutical journal articles, reports, protocols, clinical studies, case report forms and medical testing instructions.

Our definition of quality is projects done on time, on budget and happy clients.

Technology isn't enough and low bids often mean cutting corners. In 30 years, we've learned it's about treating clients right and coming through for them consistently. But don't take our word for it. Read about our current clients and their experiences with professional translation from SH3.
